Filter 100's

LUCKY STRIKE

Lucky Strike introduces the Lucky Strike that doesn't taste like a Lucky Strike.

If you like the taste of the old Lucky, stick with it. The Lucky Strike Filter 100 is a whole new cigarette.

Soft in taste. With a new tobacco blend.

A filter that's rolled tobacco-and-charcoal inside, white outside.

Try the new taste of the new Lucky Strike.

After all these years, the taste is soft.

Introducing the Powerhouse.

New Norelco Rechargeable Tripleheader Speedshaver® 45CT packs enough power for twice as many shaves as any other rechargeable.

This new Rechargeable Tripleheader has power in reserve. For more than two weeks of close, fast, comfortable Tripleheader shaves. Close because those three heads are Microgroove™ heads. Thinner than this page to give you Norelco Microgroove shaves 35% closer than ever before. Shaves so close, Norelco dares to match them with a blade.

And those heads float, swing in and out with the contours of your face while eighteen rotary blades whirl around to give you the most comfortable Norelco shave there is.

Not a nick or a pinch. Pop-up trimmer, too. 110/220 voltage selector. Altogether, more features than any other shaver.

With or without a cord, this new Rechargeable Tripleheader packs the power to shave the toughest beard. Anywhere.

There's a Tripleheader 35T with a cord, too. Also for close, fast, comfortable shaves. It stays home.

Norelco®
The close, fast, comfortable electric shave.

AS WE SEE THE NEW SEASON

■ This 1967-68 season could mark either the beginning of television's second Golden Age or the end of serious efforts to upgrade the medium with special programming.

Encouraged by last season's high ratings on specials, the networks have scheduled hundreds of the expensive one-time programs.

Besides the specials, a great number of outstanding motion pictures, recent ones, will be broadcast this season.

If the specials look as good on our screens as they do on paper, this could be the best season in many years. The movies will help, as will a few of the new regular series that seem promising.

Many specials cost more than networks can recoup in sales to advertisers, but if they can attract large audiences the investment is considered to be worth-while. The success of this season—and hopes for future seasons—depends on networks, advertisers and viewers working together.

■ The networks have made an excellent start by producing the specials. Now they must give up the ridiculously expensive and frustrating practice of scheduling them opposite one another.

■ The advertisers can help reinvigorate the medium by spending money on specials. Many of them do now, but others still play it safe with series only.

■ Viewers can do their part by giving specials a chance. Please tune in.

A funny thing happened on the way to a better banana.

When you already grow the best bananas in the world and try to make them even better, some pretty funny things can happen.

Like that...er, well... thing you see below.

And that's just one of some 800 triangular-shaped, flat-topped, red-skinned, orange-pulped, apple-flavored bananas we've been working with over the past seven years.

Now we're not claiming to be any Luther Burbank of the banana world. But as far as we know, we're practically the only people around who are doing any work to improve the banana.

And it's paying off.

Our bananas today are a far cry from the bananas they were five years ago.

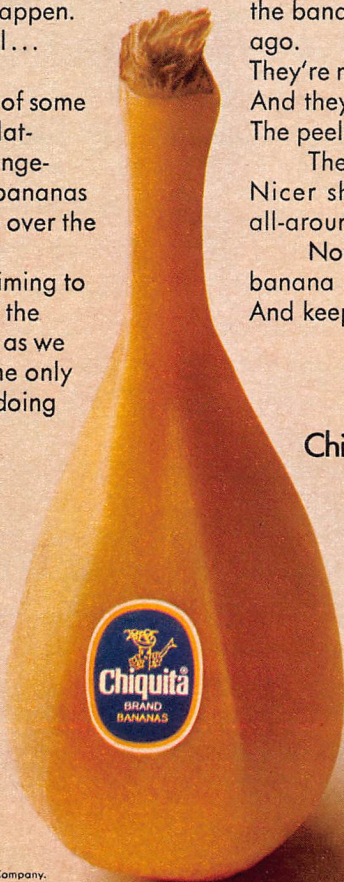

They're meatier. They're plumper. And they've never been sweeter. The peels are tighter and sleeker.

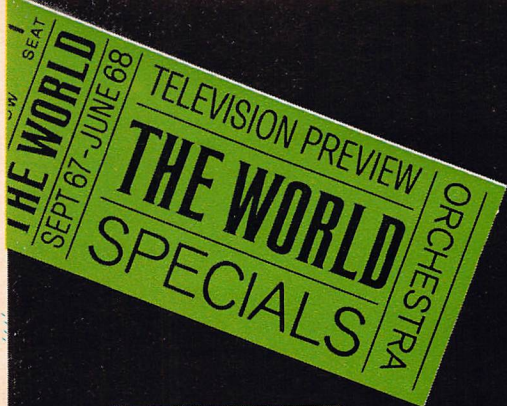

They have much nicer bloom. Nicer sheen. And a generally all-around better appearance.

Now. If we could only get a banana to juice like an orange. And keep like a coconut. But still taste like a banana.

Well, you can't knock a guy for trying.

Chiquita® Brand Bananas.

TURN PAGE FOR STORY

The word for the new season's specials is more—more than last year, more than at any time including the heyday of the “spectaculars” in the mid-Fifties. We will be getting specials by the hundreds, probably enough, in total, to provide one for every night. A sampling:

“Among the Paths to Eden” and “Miriam,” two Truman Capote stories, have been turned into ABC dramas. Maureen Stapleton and Martin Balsam star in “Eden,” Mildred Natwick and Susan Dunfee in “Miriam.”

CBS Playhouse promises at least four original plays this season. Two of them will be Loring Mandel’s “Do Not Go Gentle into That Good Night,” with Melvyn Douglas and Shirley Booth; and Reginald Rose’s “Dear Friends,” with Patricia Barry, James Daly, Rosemary Harris, Anne Jackson, Hope Lange, Pernell Roberts, Eli Wallach and David Wayne.

“Diary of a Madman” by Gogol is a one-man tour de force performed by the French actor Roger Coggio. It’s on CBS’s schedule.

“Flesh and Blood” is a two-hour NBC drama special. William Hanley wrote it; Arthur Penn directs it; Kim Stanley, E. G. Marshall, Edmond O’Brien, Suzanne Pleshette, Robert Duval and Kim Darby act in it.

“From Chekhov with Love,” based on the dramatist’s letters, stars Sir John Gielgud, Dame Peggy Ashcroft, Wendy Hiller, Dorothy Tutin, Nigel Davenport and Maurice Denham. Jonathan Miller staged the CBS special.

Hallmark Hall of Fame, on NBC, plans five new shows plus one rerun. The new ones include “A Bell for Adano,” with John Forsythe; “The Admirable Crichton,” with Bill Travers and Virginia McKenna; “Elizabeth the Queen,” with Dame Judith Anderson and Charlton Heston; and “Saint Joan,” with Maurice Evans, Raymond Massey, Roddy McDowall and starring a Canadian newcomer, Genevieve Bujold.

“The Importance of Being Oscar” is another CBS one-man show—in two 60-minute installments—based on Oscar Wilde’s life and works. Wilde is impersonated by Ireland’s Micheál Mac Liammóir.

NBC Children’s Theatre is readying two new programs for youngsters—“The Enormous Egg,” with Frank Blair as a TV commentator, and “Miss Pick-erall Goes Undersea.”

NBC Experiment in Television will be back with new plays and other sprouts from its avant garden.

“The Rivalry” reunites Richard Boone and Martin Gabel, who did the re-creation of the Lincoln-Douglas Debates on Broadway in 1959. Now they’ll square off in a two-man CBS special.

The Royal Shakespeare Company is expected to do one play for CBS in ‘67-68—“A Midsummer Night’s Dream.” Diana Rigg and David Warner star.

“Silent Night” recounts the creation of the Christmas song. Christopher Isherwood wrote the drama for ABC. James Mason is the star.

“Spoon River,” with Jason Robards Jr., is a CBS dramatization of Edgar Lee Masters’ “Spoon River Anthology.”

“The World of Charles Dickens,” on ABC, finds Sir Michael Redgrave portraying the novelist, Geraldine Chaplin serving as narrator, and actors performing scenes from Dickens’ books, at London locations.

Taped Specials will provide an occasional change of pace from ABC’s Sunday and Wednesday night movies. The plays and casts include: "All About Eve," "The Desperate Hours" (George Segal, Teresa Wright, Arthur Hill, Yvette Mimieux), "Dial 'M' for Murder" (Laurence Harvey, Hugh O'Brian, Diane Cilento), "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" (Jack Palance), "The Diary of Anne Frank" (Diane Davila, Max von Sydow, Lilli Palmer, Viveca Lindfors, Theodore Bikel, Donald Pleasence), "A Hatful of Rain," "Johnny Belinda" (Mia Farrow, Barry Sullivan, Ian Bannen, David Caradine), "Of Mice and Men" (George Segal, Nicol Williamson, Joey Heatherton, Will Geer, Donald Moffat), "Present Laughter" (Peter O'Toole, Honor Blackman) and "The Voice of the Turtle" (Princess Lee Radziwill).

"Aladdin" will be staged as a musical by the Prince Street Players for CBS.

"Androcles and the Lion" is Shaw's play bespangled with music and lyrics by Richard Rodgers. Norman Wisdom, Noel Coward, Ed Ames, Inga Swenson and Kurt Kasznar are in the cast of the 90-minute show on NBC.

Armstrong Circle Theatre comprises three 90-minute ABC adaptations of familiar stage musicals, one of which will be "Kismet."

"At the Drop of Another Hat," transplanted from Broadway, is an hour-long farrago of original songs and satire with Michael Flanders and Donald Swann, presented by CBS.

"The Legend of Robin Hood" plants a Sammy Cahn-Jimmy Van Heusen score in the middle of Sherwood Forest. It's a 90-minute NBC special.

"Who's Afraid of Mother Goose?"

stars Maureen O'Hara (as Mrs. Goose) in ABC's one-hour musical fantasy. Also present are Nancy Sinatra, Frankie Avalon, Joanie Sommers, Fred Clark, Peter Gennaro, Rowan and Martin, Margaret Hamilton, Dick Shawn, Scooter Jolley and Stuart Getz.

Bell Telephone Hour rings in its 10th TV season on Sept. 22. This year's plans call for 11 "documentary studies in music" on Friday nights (alternating with NBC News specials), plus two Sunday shows. The programs encompass a Bach festival, a jazz gala, a musical portrait of Chicago, "The Many Faces of Romeo and Juliet," and studies of conductor Zubin Mehta, violin teacher Joseph Fuchs and ballet dancer Edward Villella.

"The Best on Record" is NBC's annual exhibit of winners of Grammy awards.

The Monterey International Pop Festival brought together Mamas, Papas, Simons, Garfunkels, Jefferson Airplanes and other riprap from the Rock pile. ABC was there too, boppers, filming this musical documentary.

"S. Hurok Presents—Part II" is a sequel to last season's Hurok special. Performers include Marian Anderson, who will again narrate and act as hostess, and pianist Artur Schnabel.

Young People's Concerts bring Leonard Bernstein and the New York Philharmonic back for still another season of four musical dissertations over CBS on Christmas Day and three Sunday afternoons.

ORCHESTRA

Fred Astaire returns to the scene of earlier triumphs with a song-and-dance special on NBC.

Jack Benny plays one NBC date, with Lucille Ball as his guest.

Charlie Brown, who has added TV stardom to his list of attainments, is back with at least one new half-hour show, plus several reruns from the "Peanuts" gallery.

Carol Channing has been signed by ABC for a pair of specials this season.

Perry Como plans one, on NBC.

Bill Cosby ditto.

John Davidson, the boyish singer, does a college-theme variety show with comedian George Carlin, for ABC.

Andy Griffith is slated for one CBS special. He'll be accompanied by one country cousin (Ernie Ford) and one city slicker (Danny Thomas).

Bob Hope's weekly series is gone, but there's still Hope for NBC—the comedian will provide eight hour-long specials plus his annual 90-minute Christmas-with-the-troops memoir.

Grace Kelly tours Monaco again in "Monte Carlo—C'est la Rose," an ABC musical trek with Terry-Thomas.

Don Knotts, Andy Griffith's jittery li'l buddy, steps out in his own special for the first time, on CBS. His guest? Yep—ole Andy himself (also Juliet Prowse).

Sophia Loren has two ABC shows on tap—a musical taped at her Roman villa (with Jonathan Winters and Peter Sellers, and Tony Bennett singing off-screen) and a filmed biography.

Jim Nabors will do one CBS special.

Wayne Newton sings, dances and plays the drums as star of an ABC hour.

Jack Paar has something titled, tentatively, "Jack Paar?" on NBC's schedule.

Debbie Reynolds' ABC contract calls for two variety shows this year.

Rowan and Martin offer a 60-minute "Laugh-in" Saturday, Sept. 9, over NBC.

Frank Sinatra has recruited Ella Fitzgerald and Antonio Carlos Jobim for vocal duty in an NBC special.

Nancy Sinatra has one of her own—with her father as a guest.

Barbra Streisand does her annual show for CBS.

Danny Thomas, as part of his new weekly NBC series (see page 33), stars in six specials.

Dick Van Dyke has one CBS hour.

Andy Williams, free from weekly service, is set for three NBC specials.

Award Shows include the Oscars (ABC), Emmys (NBC), Tonys (ABC), Golden Globes (NBC) and Academy of Professional Sports Awards (NBC).

Beauty Contests continue to proliferate. Bird watchers will be able to inspect Miss America (NBC, Sept. 9), Miss U.S.A. (CBS), Miss Universe (CBS), the International Beauty Pageant (ABC), Miss Teenage America (CBS), Miss Teen International (ABC), the Junior Miss Pageant (NBC) and the Deb Star Ball (ABC).

Celebrity Softball is a new NBC wrinkle—Don Adams, Bobby Darin, James Garner, Steve Allen and show-biz friends play Willie Mays, Roberto Clemente, Maury Wills, Brooks Robinson and other major-leaguers.

"Christmas at the Radio City Music Hall" captures the annual supercolossal Yuletide stage show ("The Nativity," the Rockettes—the entire spectacle) on film, for an NBC special.

The Circus—the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey show—is on NBC.

Ice Shows in the TV freezer are "Holiday on Ice," emceed by Jonathan Winters (ABC); and the Ice Capades of 1968, and Shipstads and Johnson Ice Follies, with Ed Ames (both NBC).

Parades pass in review Thanksgiving Day (CBS and NBC) and New Year's weekend (King Orange Parade, NBC; Cotton Bowl Parade, CBS; Tournament of Roses Parade, CBS and NBC).

"Africa" is ABC News' biggest project, culminating in a four-hour profile of the continent and its peoples this Sunday night (Sept. 10). The program will be repeated, in hour-long weekly chunks, later this month. Gregory Peck will narrate the special.

"America and Americans" is NBC's filmed adaptation of Steinbeck's recent book, narrated by Henry Fonda. The program, filmed all over the U.S., examines the paradoxes of our country and its citizens.

"The Great American Novel," predicts CBS News chief Richard Salant, will be "the outstanding broadcast in our area [news and public affairs]" this season. It's a 90-minute film essay relating "Moby Dick," "Babbitt" and "The Grapes of Wrath" to contemporary life in the United States.

American Profile is the over-all title for eight NBC documentaries on such topics as disappearing wildlife, Canada, the National Gallery of Art, Baja California and country-and-western music.

"The Churchill Wit" has been distilled for an ABC special from Sir Winston's speeches and writings.

"The Fabulous Funnies," on NBC, employs song, dance and cartoon animation to demonstrate the impact of American comic strips. Carl Reiner is the host.

"Gauguin in Tahiti," pre-empted last June by Mideast-crisis coverage, has been scheduled by CBS for the fall. Sir Michael Redgrave speaks the words of the famous artist in this special filmed in France and Tahiti.

Great Explorations, with Col. John Glenn as host, is a six-program NBC series recounting such excursions as Stanley's search for Livingstone and Polar expeditions.

The Incredible World of Animals is set to reveal "The World of Horses" (with Lorne Greene as the narrator) for NBC.

National Geographic Society specials, four of them on CBS, deal with such topics as grizzly bears (filmed in the Yellowstone and Grand Teton National Parks), and the "Winged World" of birds—from the hummingbird to the ostrich.

Politics will take over television for a couple of weeks next summer—1968, in case you haven't heard, is a Presidential-election year—when network armies will again invade the convention halls to keep the delegates alert and the Nation informed. And before and after the conventions, the political infighting will receive blow-by-blow TV coverage.

Project 20 will deliver two new programs—"Down to the Sea in Ships" and "Meet Mr. Washington." And from that same NBC Special Projects unit will come two films—"Down on the Farm" and "Life and Death of an Aircraft Carrier."

"The Red Army," filmed in Russia by ABC, follows a young recruit through his training to provide a glimpse inside the Soviet military complex.

The Rise and Fall of the Third Reich is a three-part series derived from William L. Shirer's book and produced by David L. Wolper.

Saga of Western Man has announced three new undertakings — one deals with a missionary in Latin America, another recalls the 1942 Dieppe raid, the third is about Venice.

"Saturday Night," with a score by Richard Rodgers, shows how the big night is celebrated all over the world. The program has no narration—just pictures and music.

Space Explorations and other fast-breaking news events will, at the networks' discretion, be accorded live TV coverage.

"To the North Pole" discloses the results of a CBS News crew's trek over Polar ice, following the route taken by Com. Robert E. Peary on his historic—and, until this attempt, unduplicated—journey in 1909.

Tomorrow's World is a four-part NBC peek into our computerized, overpopulated, superlunary future. And in addition, even the depths of the oceans will not be immune to NBC cameras.

The Undersea World of Jacques-Yves Cousteau is a series (three or four this season) of dunkings with the famed oceanographer, filmed for ABC. Underwater cameras will study such phenomena as killer whales, sharks, sunken treasure and the sinking of the ocean liner Lusitania.

Vietnam will continue to be a principal preoccupation of the network news departments, as they try in news specials to keep the war and its political ramifications in focus.

Who, What, When, Where, Why—Harry Reasoner's monthly (or so) series of CBS specials which began a couple of weeks ago—will amount, altogether, to 14 shows, including essays (on small towns and on chairs), visits (to John F. Kennedy's birthplace), personality portraits (of Andrew Wyeth), "Christmas in Bethlehem," a look at criminal lawyers, topical news and interviews.

ABC News also promises specials on Sen. Everett Dirksen, juvenile delinquency, mental retardation (an updated version of the acclaimed "The Long Childhood of Timmy"), football's Bear Bryant, the Vienna Boys Choir, urban problems, the world as seen through the eyes of a child, "The California Girl" and "How Life Begins."

CBS News has a number of other specials cooking, most of them for serving during its weekly Tuesday night news hour. Among them are a current-events quiz, a profile of Eric Hoffer, "Barry Goldwater's Arizona," and examinations of the New Left and "Our Friends the Germans."

NBC News has other projects planned too, for inclusion in its Friday night specials slot and elsewhere. There are programs about Sicily (produced by Roberto Rossellini), Negro soldiers in Vietnam, foreign aid, poverty, American justice, the cities' deterioration, the Dead Sea Scrolls, "Anatomy of a Riot," Spain and the rehabilitation of flooded Florence.

MOVIES

Television hasn't run out of movies yet. Not by A. C. Nielsen's chinny chin chin. There are still enough to go around for six nights a week (and then around again in reruns).

That's exactly what the networks have in mind for this season. NBC again has dibbies on Saturday night, ABC on Sunday, NBC Tuesday, ABC Wednesday, and CBS Thursday and Friday. Still no takers for Monday, so the six-day movie week remains the TV rule.

It isn't just leftovers the networks will be serving. The bill of fare includes such gourmet delicacies as "Tom Jones," "Shane," "Never on Sunday," "Hud," "A Hard Day's Night" and "The King and I." But with more than 300 movie nights to fill, all the coming attractions aren't up to that level, obviously. There will be the usual opportunities for cineastes to admire Jerry Lewis's antics, Doris Day's virtue, Elvis Presley's adenoids and Carroll Baker's epidermis. Not to mention such gems as "Tammy and the Doctor," "The New Interns" and "Party Girl." It is, altogether, a thoroughly mixed bag. Among the more intriguing items are:

"The Agony and the Ecstasy" (1965): Michelangelo (Charlton Heston) paints the Sistine ceiling for Pope Julius II (Rex Harrison). (ABC)

"The Best Man" (1964): Henry Fonda and Cliff Robertson fight for the Presidential nomination. (CBS)

"The Birds" (1963): Hitchcock's tale of fowl play, with Tippi Hedren, Rod Taylor, Suzanne Pleshette. (NBC)

"Cat on a Hot Tin Roof" (1958): Feline Elizabeth Taylor shares Tennessee Williams' sizzling roof with Paul Newman and Burl Ives. (CBS)

"The Collector" (1965): Samantha

Eggar is the prize in a bizarre (Terence) Stamp collection. (ABC)

"Compulsion" (1959): A fictionalized rehash of the Leopold-Loeb case, with Dean Stockwell, Bradford Dillman and Orson Welles. (ABC)

"Days of Wine and Roses" (1962): Jack Lemmon and Lee Remick are the alcoholics in this movie version of the Playhouse 90 drama. (CBS)

"The Defiant Ones" (1958): Chase and race are linked, as convicts Tony Curtis and Sidney Poitier flee. (CBS)

"Freud" (1962): Montgomery Clift as the great man, directed by John Huston. (NBC)

"The Great Escape" (1963): Steve McQueen, James Garner, James Coburn and other residents of a POW camp decide to emigrate. (CBS)

"Greatest Show on Earth" (1953): Cecil B. DeMille's Oscar-winning circus act, with Charlton Heston, Betty Hutton and James Stewart. (ABC)

"A Hard Day's Night" (1964): The Beatles run amuck. (NBC)

"How to Murder Your Wife" (1965): Elementary uxoricide, taught by Jack Lemmon and Virna Lisi. (NBC)

"Hud" (1963): Paul Newman, Patricia Neal, Melvyn Douglas and gritty passions out West. (ABC)

"The King and I" (1956): Anna and the King of Siam meet Rodgers and Hammerstein. Deborah Kerr and Yul Brynner are the stars. (ABC)

"King Rat" (1965): A POW-camp drama, with young George Segal, Tom Courtenay and James Fox. (ABC)

"Man Who Shot Liberty Valance" (1962): A John Ford Western, with John Wayne, James Stewart, Lee Marvin and Woody Strode. (CBS)

"Mirage" (1965): Suspense in and near a Manhattan skyscraper, with Gregory Peck, Diane Baker. (NBC)

"Mutiny on the Bounty" (1963): The costly, problem-plagued Marlon Brando-Trevor Howard remake. (ABC)

"Never on Sunday" (1960): Melina Mercouri as a Greek bearing gifts, and Jules Dassin as the American who tries to curb her generosity. (NBC)

"North by Northwest" (1959): More Hitchcock, plus Cary Grant, Eva Marie Saint, James Mason, Mount Rushmore and a lethal crop duster. (CBS)

NBC—"Bedtime Story" (Marlon Brando, Shirley Jones), "Captain Newman, M.D." (Gregory Peck, Angie Dickinson), "The Chalk Garden" (Deborah Kerr, Hayley Mills), "Cinderfella" (Jerry Lewis), "The Errand Boy" (Jerry Lewis), "Fun in Acapulco" (Elvis Presley, Ursula Andress), "Girls! Girls! Girls!" (Elvis Presley, Stella Stevens), "Invitation to a Gunfighter" (Yul Brynner), "Man's Favorite Sport" (Rock Hudson, Paula Prentiss), "Marnie" (Tippi Hedren, Sean Connery), "Mr. Moses" (Robert Mitchum, Carroll Baker), "Second Time Around" (Debbie Reynolds, Andy Griffith), "Send Me No Flowers" (Doris Day, Rock Hudson), "Strange Bedfellows" (Rock Hudson, Gina Lollobrigida), "Tammy and the Doctor" (Sandra Dee), "The Thrill of It All" (Doris Day, James Garner) and "What a Way to Go!" (Shirley MacLaine, Paul Newman).

Those are a sampling of the Hollywood hand-me-downs the networks have bought for showing this season. NBC discovered last year, however, that movies don't have to be second-hand theatrical attractions to entice the TV audience. Nor do they have to be costly. Let's face it, Bosley—they don't even have to be very good. NBC's World Premiere movies—new, low-budget films of uneven quality, manufactured expressly for TV—achieved astonishingly high ratings. And so Universal is producing a number of new ones for NBC. Most likely to reach your screens in 1967-68 are:

"Breakout," prison-escape stuff, with James Drury and Red Buttons; "Drag-net," feature-length Jack Webb case; "A Fire in the Wind," Western, with Don Murray; "I Love a Mystery," based on the old radio series, with Ida Lupino, Don Knotts; "Jigsaw," suspense drama, with Harry Guardino, Bradford Dillman; "The Midnight Oil," art-theft comedy, with Jonathan Winters, Steve Allen; "Prescription: Murder," melodrama, with Gene Barry, Peter Falk; "Shadow over Elveron," small-town conflict, with James Franciscus, Shirley Knight, Don Ameche; "The Smugglers," comedy-drama, with Shirley Booth, Carol Lynley; "Something for a Lonely Man," Western drama, with Dan Blocker; and "Stranger on the Run," another Western, with Henry Fonda, Anne Baxter.

CBS won't have any made-for-TV movies this season, but ABC has one in the can—a two-hour international-intrigue opus starring Robert Wagner and Senta Berger.

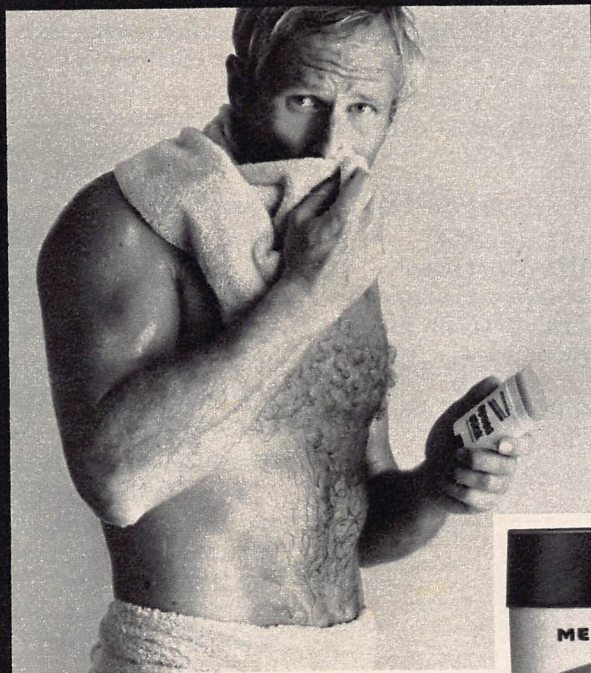

One thing CBS can boast of, however, is its Children's Film Festival, a notable success with critics and viewers last winter. It returns in the middle of this season with a new Sunday set of foreign films for youngsters.

As lagniappe, the networks have already built up a backlog of golden oldies they figure they can rerun season after season. In 1967-68 ABC is contemplating new showings of "Bridge on the River Kwai," "Guys and Dolls," "Hans Christian Andersen," "Porgy and Bess" and "The Robe." CBS will revive "The Music Man." And NBC will run "White Christmas" again.

One conspicuous absentee from the network schedules is that previously indestructible perennial, "The Wizard of Oz." CBS bought the rights to it before movies became such a precious TV commodity. But now the 10-year contract has run out, and suddenly the asking price is as high as a rainbow. Unless somebody is willing to fly that high, "The Wizard of Oz" has reached the end of the TV road. Movies have come a long way on television since Judy Garland and her friends started out alone in 1956.

We think it's high time somebody made a family-size color tv that the average family can afford.

One of the great things about America is that good living is not reserved for the rich alone.

Here, the average man can have an automobile, modern plumbing, a telephone, good clothes, books, sports equipment...a lot more than the bare necessities of life.

Through efficient mass production the discoveries of ingenious scientists and inventors are quickly made available to people at almost every income level.

Why should color television be an exception?

Why should family-sized (big-screen) color—on the market now for over ten years—still be priced out of reach for millions of American families? Why should the least-expensive color sets cost a workingman a month's pay?

There just isn't any reason that makes sense.

$299.95 big-screen color.

So Philco-Ford decided to do something about it. And today you can go to a Philco-Ford television dealer and get a brand-new, first-rate, 267 sq. in. (that's big) color set for $299.95.

About $14 a month.

If you'd rather not pay cash, you can have this Philco Color TV for about $14 a month on a two-year plan. That's just about half of what most people expect to pay for color.

Now what kind of set do you get for this kind of money? Frankly, the cabinet, while sturdy, is plain. (If you want something fancier, you can have it for just a few dollars more. There are some really good-looking models for only $349.95, $379.95 and $399.95.) But the chassis is top-quality Philco-Ford.

You get a solid-state signal system, 26,000 volts of picture power, one of the most durable color picture tubes in the industry. Everything needed to give you beautiful color, long life and trouble-free service is there. In fact you get the same Philco-Ford warranty that we put on our most luxurious color sets, models that cost up to $875.00. There are many, many Philco styles, but there's only one standard of quality—the finest.

Affordable Big Screen Color.

Model 5239 GY. One of five Philco

Affordables—$

$299⁹⁵*
all under $400.

See your Philco-Ford dealer.

We urge you to get all the facts from your local Philco-Ford dealer. Naturally, if you go to a store that does not have the new Philco affordable color tv sets, they may try to switch you to something more expensive. They may even “knock” our sets. They may try to convince you that it isn't possible to give you a good color set at $299.95. But don't you believe it.

Just as many, many years ago Ford made the automobile a lot more than a rich man's toy—today Philco-Ford is dedicated to bringing color tv to everybody.

Mannix If you take Sam Spade and update him to fit today's Bonded passion for gimmickry; and then place him in an enormous, corporate private detective bureau, you end up with something pretty much resembling this fellow Mannix (Mike Connors—last seen in Tightrope!). He works for an ultracomputerized organization which likes its agents loyal, dutiful and buttoned-down. Mannix, of course, is tough, cynical and unconventional. He breaks all the rules and gets into trouble. He's the best man they've got. Debut: CBS, Sept. 16.

Maya Yet another of the chase-and-search genre, this one throws in an exotic clime (India), something for the animal buffs ("Maya" of the title is an elephant) and some adolescent adventure. Jay North (once Dennis the Menace) plays Terry Bowen, an American boy who is searching for his hunter-father who has purportedly been killed by a tiger (the boy, of course, refuses to believe it). He hooks up with Raji (Sajid Khan), a homeless Indian lad who is, illegally, returning Maya—the ever-faithful beast—to her native jungle. The two boys are coincidentally going to the same place. In the course of their travels they get into all sorts of danger (Maya is very helpful in slaying tigers and the like) and are pursued by Americans—who want the boy back—and Indians—who want the elephant back. The whole thing is to be shot on location, so that authenticity will be maintained. Oddly enough, Rudyard Kipling had nothing to do with all this. Debut: NBC, Sept. 16.

SUNDAY

The High Chaparral

This Western (produced by David Dortort of Bonanza fame) is named for the ranch upon which it takes place. The ranch is owned by "Big John" Cannon (Leif Erickson), and he's got troubles. His land in Arizona is dry and rough; Cochise and 600 Indians are trying to do him in; a Mexican cattle baron to the south is giving him a hard time; and his hard-drinking, hard-fighting brother (Cameron Mitchell) never seems to change his clothes. Also, Big John's wife has been killed by the Injuns; he has been forced into a marriage of convenience with the beautiful daughter (Linda Cristal) of the Mexican big shot; and he has the surliest, most doltish son (Blue, played by Mark Slade) since Orestes, who can't seem to do anything right except sulk. Against these odds Big John will prevail. He has Bonanza leading the way. Debut: NBC, Sept. 10.

Eve Arden

The Mothers-in-Law

Desi Arnaz returns to television as the producer/director of this broad situation humor about what might happen if a boy really did marry the girl next door: The mothers might know each other awfully well. In this case, Eve Hubbard (Eve Arden, late of Our Miss Brooks) and Kaye Buell (Kaye Ballard) do know each other awfully well, and the result tends toward mayhem. The Hubbards (Herbert Rudley plays Herbert Hubbard) are a pretty conventional lot who find the rather boisterous and mooching Buells rather hard to take. Roger C. Carmel is Roger Buell—a bizarre TV scriptwriter. Throughout, the kids (Jerry Fogel and Deborah Walle as Jerry and Suzie Buell) suffer the slings and arrows of outraged motherhood. What to do when the baby comes; oh, what to do. Debut: NBC, Sept. 10.

Dennis Weaver

Clint Howard

Ben

Beth Brickell

Gentle Ben

This is a typical American story as told by Ivan Tors (Flipper, Daktari). It's about a young boy (Clint Howard) who lives in the Florida Everglades with his father (Dennis Weaver, the "Chester" of Gunsmoke)—a game warden—his mother (Beth Brickell), and his big black bear, Gentle Ben. (Ben has a family of his own but it appears that his first loyalty is to his towheaded master.) Besides Ben, little Mark Wedloe (for such is the lad's name) also keeps about every other denizen of the swamp, and names them all (names are something of an obsession with him). Aside from the animals, the action also includes careering around in an air boat, dealing with the ageless swamp, and ferreting out poachers. Just the sort of life most kids lead. Debut: CBS, Sept. 10.

Cowboy in Africa

The American Western is usually loaded with riding, roping, shooting, hitting, range wars and romance. This African Western, on the other hand, is just loaded with riding, roping, shooting, hitting, range wars and romance. Jim Sinclair (Chuck Connors of The Rifleman and Branded) is a championship rodeo rider brought to Africa by one Commander Hayes (Ronald Howard), a very British type who wants to organize a wild-animal ranch and breed the beasts for food. Sinclair brings with him his Navaho buddy (Tom Nardini), whose name is John Henry; and he finds a little native buddy, Samson (Gerald B. Edwards), who is a true child of nature. The three of them involve themselves in animal action scenes and trouble with the Boer cattlemen who don't like all the newfangled goings on. There are a few girl-type romances, and there are also lines like "Keep that lioness busy!" Debut: ABC, Sept. 11.

Danny Thomas Hour

Danny Thomas, who in one way or another has been on television almost as long as test patterns, has for this season come up with a highly variable format that is designed to appeal to just about everybody. Spread over the spectrum will be: four specials, each with a specific motif—including the fourth edition of "The Wonderful World of Burlesque"—which will feature many of the stars Thomas has used in the past, such as Pearl Bailey, Bing Crosby and Don Rickles; several variety specials in which Danny will present some new, young talent; 16 original hour shows, both comedy and drama, in which Danny will either star or act as on-screen storyteller (including an hour-long reprise of the old Danny Thomas situation comedy). Whew! Debut: NBC, Sept. 11.

Carol Burnett Show

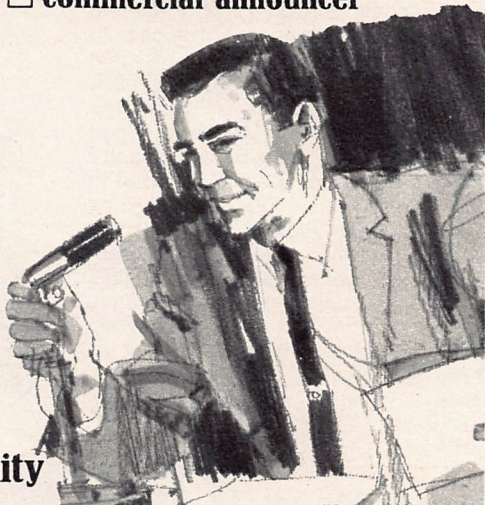

Having won all sorts of awards and plaudits for her work with Garry Moore and in specials with Lucille Ball and Julie Andrews (and in the short-lived The Entertainers), Carol Burnett finally has a series with her own name on the marquee. This show will resemble the old Gleason show in format—incorporating a continuing marriage skit within the fabric. Harvey Korman (previously a regular on The Danny Kaye Show) is Miss Burnett's screen husband, in addition to working in most of the other comedy routines. There will also be such guests as Phyllis Diller, Trini Lopez, Pearl Bailey, Liza Minnelli and Mike Douglas. Naturally the variety segments will include dance routines and general musical-comedy fare. The whole thing is produced by Joe Hamilton—Miss Burnett's real husband. Debut: CBS, Sept. 11.

Off to the Ratings Races Again

Spotting the hit shows of the new TV season isn't going to be easy, a lot of networkers are privately admitting. Reason: Specials and movies will be such frequent audience lures that viewing of regular series, new and old, is sure to be highly volatile, making it hard to get a reading on them. "Those 'Top 10' rankings aren't going to mean a thing," one official predicted. "There's hardly what you could call a 'normal' TV week in sight." For instance, a rash of NBC "sneak previews" of 1968 pilots in the coming week will make it difficult to assess how well competing ABC and CBS premieres would have fared against regular NBC shows.

Even so, press and public can expect to be showered by the networks' competitive claims to ratings glory. A. C. Nielsen, whose nose-counts are gospel, will feed the flames with weekly reports in addition to his customary fortnightly ratings.

CBS finally confirmed what many TV insiders have known for months: That its laboratories had developed a film-cartridge device which will play programs into home TV sets. There is no certainty when it will be marketed in the U.S., however. CBS said the gadget will be produced first in England, early in 1969, and initially for school use because, as one CBSer vaguely explained, "The English are behind us in education." The CBS item's chief virtues are miniaturization (bread-box size) and price (an estimated $280 vs. about $1000 for now-available home video-tape recorders). But the unit is limited to playback and will not record shows off the tube. Also, the film cartridges, which can play "up to" half an hour in color, possibly will cost between $7 and $14, hardly a low-cost price range. Wall Street seemed unimpressed; the day the story broke, CBS stock dipped fractionally.

On the eve of seasonal premieres and with such major live specials as the Miss America Pageant in the offing, two of the networks—ABC and NBC—faced threat of a technicians' walkout and the possibility that members of AFTRA, the performers' union which struck all three networks last April, would respect picket lines. Network officials vowed they were prepared to keep all shows, live or filmed, remote or studio, rolling by manning control rooms and cameras with supervisory personnel.

Some developments since TV GUIDE's Fall Preview feature section went to press: NBC has landed "The Wizard of Oz," long a CBS fixture, and will show it on a Saturday evening early next year . . . Juliet Mills (Hayley's sister), rather than Geraldine Chaplin, will accompany Sir Michael Redgrave on a filmed tour of London in ABC's "World of Charles Dickens" . . . Princess Lee Radziwill will star in "Laura," instead of "The Voice of the Turtle," on ABC . . . And producer John Aaron has left ABC's Good Company series.

THE GREAT ESCAPE, PART I (CBS), Thursday

THE GREAT ESCAPE, PART II (CBS), Friday

In some areas network movies may not be seen on the days indicated.

Well, we're off and running with a humdinger of an adventure movie setting what we'd like to think of, even momentarily, as the pace for the new network-movie season. Its showing and the method thereof more than compensate for the pre-empting of two movie spots by specials (and only the movie die-hards among us can even quibble with this sort of pre-empting, at least not before we see the "Laugh-In" and the four-hour special on Africa scheduled by the two networks) and the trivia offered in the two other movie spots.

CBS is showing "The Great Escape" on two consecutive evenings so that the 170-minute film will be telecast virtually intact (a couple of seconds snipped in one spot to elide the sort of blasphemy that is apparently suitable for movie houses but not for homes, and several more snipped purely for continuity purposes). Wherever the division is made, you are guaranteed an overnight cliff-hanger, for in this 1963 film producer-director John Sturges has done a remarkable job in building from climax to climax, with small pause for relaxation in the basic race for freedom and against time and detection.

James Clavell (author of "King Rat" and "Tai-Pan") and producer-director-writer of the film of "To Sir, with Love") and W. R. Burnett (the master of fast-paced, hard-boiled fiction and films, starting from way back with "Little Caesar") have written the fact-based story of the mammoth escape planned and executed by Allied officers from a Nazi prison camp in 1942. Theirs is an absorbing story of scores of men united in a single purpose, of fantastic ingenuity, of bravado that turns to bravery and of quiet courage counterpointed by shattering horrors.

There's a driving force through the story and its development, with only moments out for a bit of humor, or characterization, or background, so that we're left with relatively surface portraits—but impeccable ones at that. The all-male international cast is sparked by Steve McQueen, Richard Attenborough, James Garner, Charles Bronson, James Coburn, Donald Pleasence, David McCallum, James Donald and many others who make you realize, in the jolt of the shock ending, that they are involved with fact rather than fiction. And it constitutes out-and-out adventure, an absorbing story of very human heroes that is top-notch entertainment.

The week's fare also includes "Fun in Acapulco," Elvis Presley's 13th film. No luck for anyone there unless you nostalgically want to watch Elvis swivel the pelvis during a bossa nova bit. And Dean Martin and Carol Burnett, making her movie debut therein, fare no better with "Who's Been Sleeping in My Bed?" a tasteless complication about sex and psychiatry for the simple-minded. Best stick with the week's double-header.

SOMETHING ELSE

CBS's "The Hippie Temptation" is a one-sided superficial tirade. The objection that hippie culture is based on drug abuse and is therefore invalid, is somewhat faulty, for we can all heed the hippie message without taking drugs. That message is awareness—of oneself, of beauty, of the kinship of a common humanity. Certainly no primitive society such as ours can long survive without the bondage of the individual to society's need for labor. But as the machine eliminates this need, a hippie style life will become increasingly practicable. As for its being "childish": Maturity in animals is defined as the stage at which energy is conserved for sustenance and

SPECTATOR SPORT

Do the North American audiences attend symphony concerts just for the sake of clapping at every pause, or gawking and waving madly at every camera turned upon them? The lack of taste or manners was very apparent during the Aug. 17 Tanglewood Concert. How I felt for Erich Leinsdorf, having to acknowledge applause after each movement of Dvorak's "New World." Why do people attend when they don't know how to perform themselves? Perhaps you should use cue cards or applause signs in future telecasts.

EXAMPLE

Why can't more television shows follow the fine example set by The Fugitive? Instead of just ending the season with another rerun, why couldn't shows like The Time Tunnel film a special episode and save it for the end of the season with the scientists coming out of the tunnel? Occasional Wife would end nicely with the couple really getting married. Love on a Rooftop could also have an ending with the couple getting a new apartment on the ground floor. There are, have been and will be many more shows that could end with a real ending. I hope many more follow the example of The Fugitive.

8:00 2 PRO FOOTBALL—49ers vs. Rams

SPECIAL COLOR The 49ers meet the Rams in an exhibition game at the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum. Bob Fouts and Gordy Soltau report. (Live)

49ers Scouting Report

49er fans are hoping that the accurate picture of what to expect from San Francisco was exhibited in the opening win against the Cleveland Browns and the thrilling, though losing, effort against the Dallas Cowboys. The defense looked good and quarterback John Brodie's passing was sharp.

It must be sharp against the Rams, because not much ground is gained against the front four on the Ram defense.

Rams Scouting Report

The Rams, who comprise the Coastal Division with the 49ers, Colts and Falcons, must be rated over these three on their exhibition record of four wins and no losses. The defense has been exceptional, with Merlin Olsen, Deacon Jones, Lamar Luddy and Rosie Grier on the line, and an experienced backfield who turned four intercepted passes into touchdowns against the San Diego Chargers.

7:40 2 BASEBALL—Giants

COLOR The Giants and the Dodgers conclude their 1967 battles with this three-game series telecast from Los Angeles. Russ Hodges and Lon Simmons report. (Live)

The Giants got the best of the defending National League champion Dodgers in the season series, with a 11-4 record to date. They also have the top candidate for the Comeback Player of the Year award in pitcher Mike McCormick. What they didn't get, barring a miracle, was the National League pennant.

The Dodgers had little to be happy about with their second division play. At press time, no batter was hitting higher than the .280s, and the team batting was the worst in the league.

The pitching staff's bright spot was young Bill Singer who, at one point, put together a seven-game win streak, and allowed an average of less than one earned run.

"Be an accountant! The whole profession makes good money. There have never been good enough accountants, but now those who retire must be replaced as well as supplying the mounting demand. The Federal Government is adding accountants faster than workers in any other occupation."

"How do you get into accounting? Of all professions, it is the widest open to hard work and merit. College is increasingly essential to any kind of career, including accounting, but a majority of accountants now in middle life learned the profession on the job, in correspondence or night courses."

CAROL BURNETT—Variety

10:00 5 10 12

DEBUT COLOR Jim "Gomer Pyle" Nabors is the opening-night guest as Carol takes her first bows as a series hostess.

Songs . . . Jim offers "You Don't Have to Say You Love Me" and "I Ain't Down Yet." Carol joins Jim for a comic medley about musical roles they wish they'd played on Broadway.

Sketches . . . In a discotheque, Carol portrays her wistful charwoman character to the tune of "Georgy Girl"; Jim and Carol play disaster-prone skiers; and Carol and her husband spend a nervous evening worrying about her sister's unchaperoned date.

Carol's regular company includes comic Harvey Korman, actor-announcer Lyle Waggoner and singer-comedienne Vicki Lawrence (a Burnett lookalike who is featured in the sketch as Carol's teen-age sister Chris). Directed by Clark Jones. Ernest Flatt dancers, Harry Zimmerman orchestra. (60 min.)

You're Not Too Old
To Look Younger!

honey and egg for wrinkles

By combining the skin-tightening properties of egg with natural bee's honey, laboratory chemists perfected a 15-minute "facial" that helps make wrinkled sagging skin on face and neck smoother and tighter . . . the crepey, drooping skin that looks so dowdy and unattractive.

And it's so fantastically easy! Just spread a thin coating over face and neck . . . almost instantly, the skin feels wonderfully refreshed and undergoes a delightful, cooling temperature change as skin begins to feel tighter. The skin will tingle and feel ever tighter as the honey and egg facial continues. Leave on for 15 minutes, then . . . easiest of all . . . cool, clear water removes every trace in seconds.

Smoother, Tighter Skin

One look in your mirror and you'll be amazed! The skin on your face and neck should look smoother, tighter, more vibrant and glowing than it has for years. Make-up looks more natural and stays looking fresh and lovely hours longer. This honey and egg recipe for a new look of beauty is guaranteed to produce these beneficial effects or money back:

1. Give the skin a tingling, refreshing coolness "just like a beauty shop facial."
2. Help make wrinkled, sagging skin tighter and firmer, more alluring.

10:00 3 4 NBC NEWS SPECIAL—Report

SPECIAL COLOR Fred Freed produced this report on the summer riots in an attempt to answer his own question: "Is the Nation on a collision course with civil war?"

Films focus on three riot areas: Detroit, Newark and the Watts section of Los Angeles, which was the scene of violence two years ago.

Freed calls the Newark eruption "a classic riot against clear-cut injustices—including poverty and slums." But why Detroit, a city with a liberal government and a massive and comprehensive anti-poverty program?

Daniel (Pat) Moynihan, urbanologist and author of a controversial report on Negro family life, reports on the Negro "underclass." This group, called "the Blacks," consists of angry, despairing Negroes at the bottom of economic and social ladders. They are ripe for the violence preached by extremists; in Detroit they number 100,000.

Producer Freed also wrote and directed the hour. Frank McGee reports with Walter Sheridan and Bill Matney.

Detroit street scene, July 1967

Walter Kerr is host and narrator for this series of 13 dramas performed by American "rep" companies. David Susskind and Daniel Melnick are the series' producers. David Pressman is the director. In tonight's one-act play "The Bedtime Story," performed by the Seattle Repertory Theatre, Sean O'Casey has blended broad comedy and biting satire. The hero, young Mulligan, indulges his self-imposed feelings of guilt, as he tells his girl "We're in the midst of violent sin; it's necessary to feel sorry for it." (60 min.)

Ronnie Schell

Garrison's Gorillas

"They come from every Federal penitentiary in the States. They're killers, con men, hot-car artists . . . well, anything you can name . . ." That's what Lt. Craig Garrison (Ron Harper, center) has to say about the group of guerrillas he leads into France to harass the Nazis. They include (left to right) Goniff, thief and pickpocket (Chris Cary); Actor, con man (Cesare Danova); Casino, crook-of-all-trades (Rudy Solari); and Chief, switch-blade specialist (Brendon Boone). They bicker among themselves; wisecrack; collaborate with beautiful blondes; and thoroughly confound, hornswoggle and defeat the Germans (who, as usual, couldn't shoot an elephant in a telephone booth). Debut: ABC, Sept. 5.

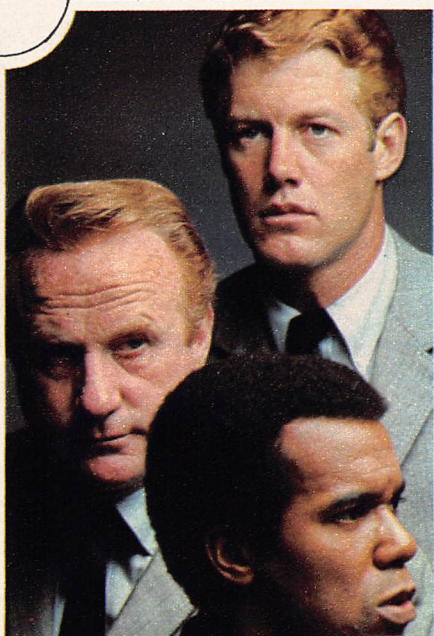

Joby Baker

Good Morning World

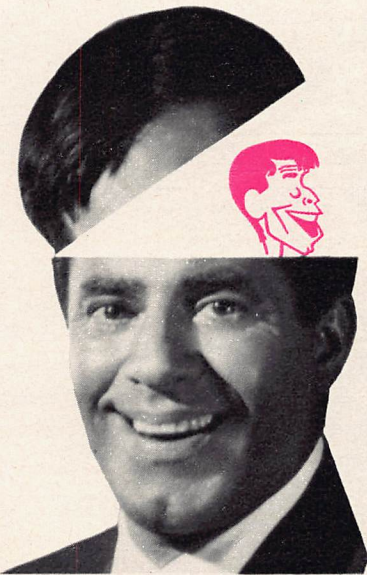

Disc jockeys are funny fellows, right? They get on the air and play lots of records and say wild and witty things. And it must be a pretty easy life even if you do have an early-morning show. Take this premise, compound it by making the show a two disc-jockey show, throw in some sit-com family life and you've got Good Morning World. Joby Baker plays Dave Lewis, the zanier of the two jockeys; and Julie Parrish is his wife, Linda—forbearing yet a bit tart, as the formula requires. Ronnie Schell (formerly of Gomer Pyle, USMC) plays the other platter-spinner, Larry Clark; Billy De Wolfe is Roland B. Hutton Jr., the station's rock 'n' roll-hating owner; and Goldie Hawn portrays the Lewises' furiously gossiping neighbor. This one's for Sally and Lou, and the gang down on Mursphree St., and all the rest of you who called in to say hello. Debut: CBS, Sept. 5.

N.Y.P.D. Like Hawk before it, and N.Y.P.D. Naked City before that, N.Y.P.D. is filmed directly on the sidewalks of New York. With an assist from the Finest (but not with the Police Department's inviolable files), Daniel Melnick ("Noon Wine," "Ages of Man") of Talent Associates has produced an essentially accurate series dealing with crime and its prevention in the big city. Jack Warden (The Wackiest Ship in the Army) holds down one lead role as Detective Lieutenant Mike Haines. Robert Hooks, a successful young New York actor, is Detective Jeff Ward. And Frank Converse, star of this summer's Coronet Blue, plays Detective Johnny Corso. Singly or together, the trio hurtles pell-mell, up in the Bronx, and down at the Battery, East Side, West Side, and all around the town in pursuit of those who commit antisocial deeds. Debut: ABC, Sept. 5.

The Jerry Lewis Show

Albeit a smashing success where movies are concerned, Jerry Lewis has never really been able to break the TV barrier as a single. Blame it, if you will, on Marshall McLuhan's hot/cool medium theories, Lewis has bombed consistently on the small screen. But, "if at first . . ." and all that sort of thing: Lewis is giving it another try with this season's weekly show. Each hour-long segment will include two skits, much along the Red Skelton lines, in which Jerry will portray such tried-and-true characters as "the Poor Soul," "the Nutty Professor" and "the Shoeshine Boy." The remainder of each show will be taken up with variety-type acts, a guest appearance by some well-known or other and, naturally enough, some zany miscellany from the proprietor. Debut: NBC, Sept. 12.

a fruit cake so good one taste sells it!

Last year all across America, 7,073 club groups like yours sold Benson's Sliced Old Home Fruit Cake. They made from $50 to $4,337, and they had the easiest selling job in fund-raising history, thanks to free sample slices of fruit cake. Your group can do it, too, because people who taste a sample want to buy a cake. It's that good! Benson's packs free samples inside every case of fruit cake. Your group can earn $1.10 on each 3-pound cake sold. Mail coupon for a brochure and 10 free sample slices. Absolutely no obligation.

Dundee and The Culhane

John Mills portrays a trail-riding British lawyer (Dundee), who is trying to bring the civilizing effects of law to the Old West. He is a genteel man, sophisticated and definitely averse to violence. The violence he leaves up to his assistant and traveling companion, inexplicably yclept The Culhane, who is played by Sean Garrison. The Culhane is a young apprenticing lawyer, fast with guns and fists in the grand Western tradition—as well he must be, because Dundee affords him no more help than an approving smile whenever the inevitable violence ensues. The (as we suppose he should be called) usually wins the day and, of course, Dundee's silver tongue, inordinate charm and irrefutable logic invariably win the war. Debut: CBS, Sept. 6.

Arthur O'Connell

Monte Markham

The Second Hundred Years

Cryogeneticists (scientists concerned with the effects of deep cold) will love this one. It's about a 33-year-old Alaskan gold prospector who gets himself buried and frozen in a glacier back in 1900, and finally pops out, thawed and alive, in 1967. That makes him 100 years old chronologically, but, because he's been stored in a deep freeze, he's still really only 33 in mind and body. Luke Carpenter (played by Monte Markham) has some surprises upon his return: mainly a 67-year-old son, Edwin (Arthur O'Connell), and a grandson who happens to look just like him (also Monte Markham)—a pretty stuffy fellow. He also has a few problems adjusting to U.S.A., 1967: Television ("By golly, there's a midget in that box"), which he shoots; cars, which attack him; mini-skirts, which appeal to him. Medicare is in for some real trouble. Debut: ABC, Sept. 6.

He & She is a TV show about a man who draws a comic strip called "Jetman" which has been made into a TV series (called Jetman, which stars Oscar North as a sissy hero—the part of whom is portrayed by Jack Cassidy, who plays North as an egotistical fop). Confused? This sit-com hinges in part around the fact that the cartoonist, Dick Hollister (Richard Benjamin), and his wife, Paula (Paula Prentiss), live next to a firehouse. When their plumbing goes bad they can get their water by hose via the window—but they also have to put up with the awful racket from the firehouse. Mrs. Hollister works for a travelers' aid outfit and she brings home poor and homeless people. Incidentally, Dick and Paula Hollister are, in real life, Dick and Paula Benjamin. Confused? Debut: CBS, Sept. 6.

Kraft Music Hall

Kraft, a hardy perennial on the television scene, this year presents a somewhat different version of its "Music Hall." In its many previous incarnations the show featured a single continuing host (Perry Como, Milton Berle, Dave King or John Davidson) and a stable, unchanging format. This year no two shows will be alike and each will reflect a different musical point. The first will feature Herb Alpert and the Tijuana Brass. There also will be such diverse hosts as Rock Hudson ("The Hollywood Musical"), Bobby Darin ("... As George M. Cohan," with Liza Minnelli and Ethel Merman), and Lorne Greene ("The Musical West"). It's produced by Gary Smith (art and design Emmy in 1962 for Kraft) and Dwight Hemion (Emmy in 1966 for producing Frank Sinatra's "A Man and His Music"). Debut: NBC, Sept. 13.

Custer

Lt. Col. George Armstrong Custer (Wayne Maunder) is the mustachioed fellow with the Shirley Temple curls and the arrogant air. He was one of the youngest generals in history; he was reduced in rank and suspended on a charge of deserting his post; he was returned to duty to shape up the 7th Cavalry ("I want you to take a good look at your men," says his commander, "—the scum of the earth"). Aid in this travail is provided by a crusty scout (Slim Pickens); a brawny Irishman, Capt. Myles Keogh (Grant Woods); and an ex-Confederate, Sgt. James Bustard (Peter Palmer). The flamboyant colonel is given considerable trouble by Crazy Horse (Michael Dante) and his savage hordes, but if they ever show us the trouble the real Custer had with the real Crazy Horse, the series will end rather abruptly. Debut: ABC, Sept. 6.

The Flying Nun Sally Field, late of Gidget, plays Sister Bertrille, a young American nun who rides motorcycles, tunes engines, sings a lot and flies. Without a plane she flies. Sister Bertrille has been assigned to a teaching convent in San Juan, Puerto Rico, where it is very windy. As it transpires, the cornets (or headgear) the nuns wear have sidepieces which very much resemble wings. Sister Bertrille weighs 90 pounds and, aerodynamics being what they are, she simply takes off. While she is performing Immel-manns and the like, her aerobatics are having certain effects on the ground: The stern Mother Superior (Madeleine Sherwood) is not amused; the worldly Sister Jacqueline (Marge Redmond) is amused; the spiritual Sister Ana (Linda Dancil) is somewhat transfixed; and the malaprop Sister Sisto (Shelley Morrison) spends most of her time messing up the American slang she's trying to learn. For acrophobic types, the producers have managed to work in quite a few bikinis and go-go girls down at the beach and the local discothèque.

Debut: ABC, Sept. 7.

Good Company

For those who recall Edward R. Murrow's Person to Person this new program will be very familiar indeed. Even the producer, John Aaron, is the same. Alas, the late Mr. Murrow is no longer here, but in his stead is another charismatic fellow, attorney F. Lee Bailey. Bailey, whose considerable reputation was gained through his brilliant defense of Drs. Sam Sheppard and Carl Coppolino, will visit the homes of various famous people in many walks of life (examples planned: John Glenn, Rex Harrison, Paul Newman, Hubert Humphrey). The show will be taped as close to air date as possible in order to capitalize on the immediacy of a timely subject. Accepting barrister Bailey's known persuasive powers and forensic abilities, one can only assume that even the cagiest of guests will be afforded a proper showing. Debut: ABC, Sept. 7.

Cimarron Strip

is starred as Marshal Jim Crown, sent to the Cimarron Strip to prevent a range war between (surprise!) the cattlemen and the settlers. He's tough and fast, and his sympathies really lie with the cattle folk but, like they say, you can't stand in the way of progress. This particular oater is distinguished in one particular aspect: drinking. Cattlemen drink with cattlemen; Crown drinks with cattlemen; Crown drinks alone; Crown drinks with a crony—an over-Scotched Scot (Percy Herbert), who provides comic relief when his still keeps exploding. Also in the cast are Randy Boone as Francis Wilde, tenderfoot photographer, and Jill Townsend as Dulcey Cooper-smith, a sweet young Eastern thing who comes West to meet her father, finds him deceased, and promptly decides to turn the barroom of the hotel he bequeathed her into a (choke) coffee-house. Debut: CBS, Sept. 7.

Ironside The many people who saw the two-hour preview film of this series last season will have a pretty good idea what the show is about: Robert Ironside (Raymond Burr—who was Perry Mason for nine years) is the semiretired San Francisco chief of detectives, who has been made an invalid by a would-be assassin's bullets. Still eager for action, and hoping to catch his attacker, he now lives on the third floor of police headquarters, where he has literally set up housekeeping—replete with large bed, kitchen facilities (he appears to eat nothing but chili) and a barber chair. From these headquarters he ramrods a special three-man staff of crime fighters with an even greater drive than he had when he was ambulatory. The staff comprises Det. Sgt. Ed Brown (Don Galloway, formerly of Arrest and Trial), Policewoman Eve Whitfield (Barbara Anderson), and Mark Sanger (Don Mitchell), a Negro ex-delinquent whom Ironside has taken on as his "legs," and as his general helper (but not as his "boy," as Mark is quick to point out). Mark drives Ironside's specially equipped paddy wagon (it carries his wheel chair and has all sorts of gimmickry such as a telephone, tape recorder, special lift to haul in the wheel chair, and a huge, powerful engine—something of a big, square Batmobile). Throughout, Ironside bullies, cajoles, admonishes, and sometimes feels sorry for himself—all in the name of justice and catching criminals. His favorite cuss word is "flaming" ("Take off your flaming hat, Ed. You're in the flaming house"), and he uses it very often. Debut: NBC, Sept. 14.

Accidental Family

Lest the title of this situation comedy conjure up in you thoughts of wildly illicit arrangements, rest assured. It's simply about a Las Vegas comic, Jerry Webster (Jerry Van Dyke, late of My Mother, the Car), a widower, who has finally gained custody of his son (Teddy Quinn). The court stipulates that the boy cannot be kept in Vegas, so Jerry takes him to live on a farm he owns in the San Fernando Valley. The farm is run by Susannah Kramer (Lois Nettleton), a lovely young divorcee who also happens to have a young daughter (Susan Benjamin). Thus we have a young man, unmarried, living in the same house with a young lady, divorced, with their two respective — and troublesome — children. This is known as a situation. Debut: NBC, Sept. 15.

Off to See the Wizard

In this case "the yellow-brick road" will be paved with some old Saturday-matinee features such as "Huckleberry Finn," the original "Flipper" flick, "Clarence, the Cross-Eyed Lion" (which spawned TV's Daktari) and "Tarzan, the Ape Man"—an updated, color movie about how all that odd yelling began. In addition, there will be special adventure films such as "Untamed World," a David Wolper documentary about primitive peoples, shot specifically for the series. All of this will be introduced and interrupted occasionally by animated cartoons of such "Oz" characters as the Tin Man, the Cowardly Lion, Dorothy and the Wizard himself. There will even be some old Laurel and Hardy material. A very mixed bag indeed. Debut: ABC, Sept. 8.

Judd, for the Defense

Created by Paul Monash, who gave Peyton Place to the TV world, Judd, for the Defense is about a freewheeling Texas lawyer, a taker-up of lost causes and shattered hopes, who embodies the physical and spiritual attributes of the flamboyant defense attorney—men like F. Lee Bailey, Melvin Belli and, before them, Clarence Darrow and Earl Rogers. Because of the many unpopular causes he defends, Judd (Carl Betz, once the husband on The Donna Reed Show) is frequently at odds with the law, his colleagues and even with his own young assistant, Ben Caldwell (Stephen Young, last seen as the star of Canada's Sea-way). Judd is all Texan, from the top of his Stetson, through the steely-eyed stare, to his booted accelerator foot. And naturally he wins his cases, even though, as it sometimes happens, the defendant is guilty. But fear not, justice does triumph. Debut: ABC, Sept. 8.

Hondo When John Wayne made the original movie of "Hondo" back in 1954, Hondo Lane was a laconic, tough Indian scout with a mangy dog named Sam, who saved a widowed settler lady and her son from rapine and death at the hands of the Apaches. Now Hondo has come to television, with Ralph Taeger playing Hondo this time, and he's almost a carbon copy of Wayne. The widow is here, too (Kathie Browne), and she is a widow mainly because Hondo knocks off her scurrilous husband early on. Her tousled-hair son is played by Buddy Foster, who looks as though he should be running around screaming, "Shane, come back!"; and Noah Beery is seen as Buffalo Baker, Hondo's boisterous friend. For sheer blood and violence, this one leads the field (36 whites and Indians slaughtered in the pilot). Debut: ABC, Sept. 8.

Ralph Taeger

Guns of Will Sonnett

Walter Brennan plays Will Sonnett, an old ex-Cavalry scout whose son, Jim, left home 20 years past and has become a gunfighter. It transpired, however, that Jim left behind a son, one Jeff Sonnett (played by Dack Rambo). Now the boy, trained in all things (especially guns and when to say thank you) by his grandfather, has grown up and wants to meet his father. Naturally they set off together on one of those TV searches. However, Jim Sonnett is a Legend of the West and, as such, has left a trail of people behind him—many of whom have been harboring dour thoughts of revenge. So the Sonnetts, the grandfather and grandson, meet quite a few nasty types. "Revenge is like a sore that don't never heal—not if a man keeps scratchin' it," says Brennan in the first episode. But mostly he just says, "Go on—git!" And git they do—every week. Debut: ABC, Sept. 8.

Syndicated TV, Video-ville's perennial B-picture house, has come up with the expected number of time fillers, along with a few worthwhile extra added attractions. Here are some of these new non-network but widely distributed shows:

SYNDICATED

The Alan Burke Show, a two-hour talkathon previously confined to New York, Washington, D.C. and Los Angeles, goes national. It specializes in loud-mouths and kooks (to say nothing of logic that is generally as fuzzy as the beard on Burke's dour face).

Celebrity Billiards, a half-hour color series in which Minnesota Fats displays his legendary skill. Fats, no stranger to billiard fans except under his real name, Rudolph Walter Wanderone Jr., crosses cues with such celebrity challengers as Don Adams, Bill Cosby, Morey Amsterdam, Buddy Hackett and Robert Morse.

Country Music Hall and Country Music Carousel, two half-hour series, hop aboard the already crowded Grand Ole Opry bandwagon. Carl Smith fronts Hall and Slim Wilson Carousel.

The Fight for Life examines extraordinary medical advances, with patients and doctors telling near-miraculous tales of recovery. Kathryn Crosby, R.N. (Bing's better half) narrates the hour-long shows.

Hurdy Gurdy cranks out Gay 90's-style music. Pete Lofthouse and his Second Story Men star in the half-hour series.

Outrageous Opinions, or Amour in the Afternoon. That's what Helen Gurley Brown will be dishing out (verbally, of course) in half-hour portions, as the high priestess of hanky-panky encourages celebrity guests to spill the sexual beans.

The Professionals is a wide-ranging close-up and interview show with sportscaster Bob Rhodes at the helm. He'll talk with such professionals as baseball's Frank and Brooks Robinson; auto racing's Dan Gurney, football's Fran Tarkenton and basketball's Wilt Chamberlain. The show also includes on-location shots of golf, surfing and horse racing.

Sports International, with Bud Palmer, takes sports buffs on one-hour tours of faraway — and far-out — athletic events (sumo wrestling in Japan, bocci in Italy, etc.).

Surf's Up!, a half-hour series, records the beach-and-brine antics of today's wave worshipers, from Australia to Malibu, with the Top-40 music sound twanging in the background.

The Actors Company, a repertory group, will offer three Shakespearean dramas, "Macbeth," "Twelfth Night" and "The Winter's Tale." Shakespeare may be familiar to most viewers but the unusual aspect of this effort lies in the fact that not only will the finished plays be telecast, but also several rehearsals for each.

The Woody Woodbury Show is yet another daily 90 minutes of yackety-yak, with the Huck-Finnish Woodbury serving as chief glad-hander and chatterbox.

Specials: "Art in Peril" traces the attempts to recoup the priceless works of art heisted by Hitler to stock his wishful "German Museum of Art and Culture." "The Face of Genius" catches all of the glory and most of the gloom that was playwright Eugene O'Neill. In "Marcel Marceau" the world's leading pantomimist lets silence speak eloquently for itself. "The Mean Mr. Firecracker" is a Christmas fantasy about how some talking pelicans, gossipy mules and loquacious lobsters nix nasty Firecracker's plot to blitz Santa's workshop. "The Price of a Record" reviews the life and death of racer Donald Campbell. "The Ray Coniff Christmas Show" features the arranger-conductor's 25-voice chorus, plus Yuletide yocks from Alan Young. All of these specials are one-hour shows.

Let's see now—CBS has shifted Gunsmoke from Saturday to Monday, I Spy and Run for Your Life have swapped NBC time slots, ABC is playing The Hollywood Palace on Tuesday instead of Saturday . . . and so it goes. The three networks have revamped their nighttime schedules, and a lot of old stand-bys can't be found at those old stands any more. Where the shows are this fall—old as well as new—is revealed in the chart on page 68.

But time changes aren't the only ones. A number of shows have made cast alterations. To wit:

The Andy Griffith Show adds Paul Hartman to the cast, as the proprietor of a Mayberry fix-it shop.

Batman is reduced to a half-time schedule—the Dynamic Duo fight the Forces of Badness on Thursdays only. They get some help from a new character, Batgirl (Yvonne Craig).

Bewitched provides a permanent baby sitter (Hermione Baddeley) for the witchlet, Tabatha.

Bonanza takes on a new hired hand, a loner who, producer David Dortort says, "gives the Cartwrights something to think about besides themselves." David Canary plays the part.

The FBI gives Efrem Zimbalist Jr. a new assistant. He's William Reynolds, who replaces Stephen Brooks.

The Felony Squad has a new precinct captain, Barney Phillips, who takes over for Frank Maxwell.

Gunsmoke says so-long to Roger Ewing, who played James Arness's faithful companion, and adds Buck Taylor, portraying a gunsmith.

Iron Horse supplies a lady friend (Ellen McRae) for Dale Robertson. She's a freight-line operator.

On The Lucy Show, Gale Gordon gets a boss at the bank. He's "Mr. Cheevers," played by the veteran Roy Roberts.

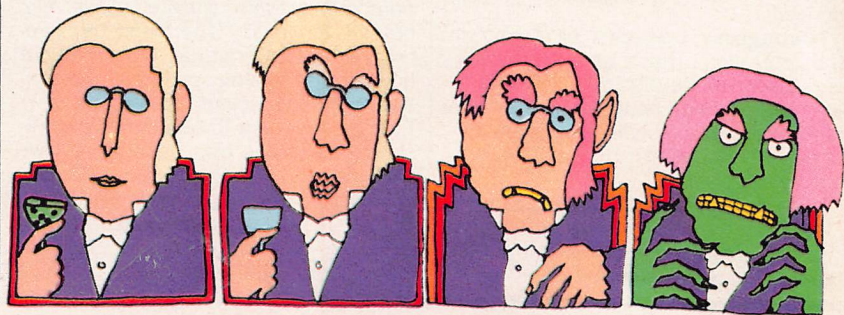

Mission: Impossible substitutes Peter Graves for Steven Hill.

The Monkees introduces a resident nasty (Monty Landis), who harasses the lads in various guises.

My Three Sons marries off No. 1 Son Don Grady to Tina Cole (of the King Family).

Peyton Place has welcomed some immigrants—Dan Duryea, Gena Rowlands and a teen-age girl who is expected to cause "profound changes." George Macready (who's been hospitalized) will return to the role of Martin Peyton. Leigh Taylor-Young has split.

Other innovations: The Lost in Space castaways visit a different planet each month. One of the Petticoat Junction girls ropes a husband (Mike Minor). The Beverly Hillbillies visit England. And Walt Disney's Wonderful World of Color goes on without a permanent host.

Here I am at 208 pounds, too big to hide behind my daughter.

Now, at 120 pounds, I'm proud to have my picture taken—anytime.

Dad didn't know me after I lost 88 pounds

By June A. Chamberlain—told to Ruth McCarthy

At age thirty-one, I was a human garbage pail. I weighed 208 pounds, though I was only a fraction over 5'3".

It was after I had lost a child at birth and miscarried another that I began to gain. Between tears, I consoled myself by eating. Pies, pretzels and sweets. Why, it was nothing for me to eat a pound of malt balls.

When I finally gave birth to a daughter, my appetite was completely out of control. And my dress size was up to 20½.

In desperation, I asked my doctor about a reducing drug. He said I could take it, but that didn't help my craving for candy. Then I remembered a vitamin and mineral reducing-plan candy, called Ayds. Since it contained no harmful drugs, I got a box at the drugstore. I took the reducing pill along with Ayds, and I lost 40 pounds.

But the drug made me so nervous, I decided to give the Ayds Plan a chance by itself. And I lost 48 more pounds! Ayds helped me have more will power than I ever thought possible. On the Ayds Plan, I found that I ate less, because I really wanted less. Now I no longer wear dark colors. And I can even get into size 8 dresses.

When my parents came north to visit me, I arranged to meet them at Penn Station. But I sent no photos on ahead. I wanted to surprise them. As I came up to my dad, I said: "Sir, can you tell me where the information booth is?" He turned to point the way. And it was not until I giggled that he recognized his own daughter—88 pounds slimmer—thanks to the help of Ayds.

It's that time again: The Olympic Games will soon be filling the minds of the world's sports fans, and in the U.S., ABC plans 70 hours of coverage (some of it via satellite, most of it in color) of the Winter Games in Grenoble, France (Feb. 6-18) and the Summer Games in Mexico City (Oct. 12-27). A pre-Olympic special goes on Feb. 4 or 5, and there'll be an hour of prime-time coverage each day during the games, as well as 3 hours a day on weekends and a 15-minute wrapup each night after 11 P.M.

Elsewhere in the sports world, the TV lineup to date looks this way:

Professional Football: CBS will carry the National Football League regular-season games from Sept. 17 through Dec. 17, with most contests being seen regionally on Sunday afternoons. The big championship game between the NFL and American Football League victors will be carried by CBS from Miami, on Jan. 14.

NBC is beaming the AFL games;

SPORTS

altogether, 56 regular-season contests will be seen, mostly on Sundays. NBC and CBS both plan lots of double-headers; both have them scheduled for Thanksgiving

Day, as well as numerous Sundays during the season. CBS will air the NFL Championship Dec. 31, the Play-off Bowl Jan. 7 and the Pro Bowl Jan. 21. NBC will have the AFL Championship Dec. 31 and the All-Star Game Jan. 20.

College Football: ABC will carry eight national and 24 regional games of the National Collegiate Athletic Association starting Sept. 16. (High point is likely to be the Oct. 28 meeting of Michigan State and Notre Dame at South Bend, Ind.) Except for Thanksgiving Day (Oklahoma at Nebraska), all games will be on Saturday afternoons.

ABC also has the Liberty Bowl (Dec. 16), Bluebonnet Bowl (Dec. 23), North-South All-Star Game (Dec. 25), Gator Bowl (Dec. 30), Hula Bowl (Jan. 6), Coaches All-America Game in July and College All-Star Game in August.

NBC has a triple-header on New Year's Day: Sugar Bowl, Rose Bowl and Orange Bowl, as well as the East-West Shrine Game (Dec. 30) and the Senior Bowl (Jan. 6). CBS will be televising the Blue-Gray Game (Dec. 30) and the Cotton Bowl (Jan. 1).

Baseball: The World Series, scheduled to start Oct. 4, will be telecast by NBC. And on 25 Saturday afternoons starting in April NBC will have a major league baseball Game of the Week. In addition, three night games will be shown nationally. In July, you'll be seeing the All-Star Game, also on NBC.

Basketball: ABC will televise 12 regular season National Basketball Association games and five NBA play-offs on Sunday afternoons beginning Dec. 24. CBS will be showing a quarter-final game of the National Invitational Basketball Tournament on March 9, and the finals on March 16. And selected NCAA tournament games will be telecast regionally in March.

Golf: The CBS Golf Classic will occupy Saturday afternoons on that network from Jan. 6 through April 6, and the finals of the tournament will be run off on April 13 and 14. CBS also has the Masters on April 6-7, as well as the Canadian Open next summer.

Bing Crosby's Pebble Beach tournament will open the PGA season on ABC in January. That network also will be televising the Tournament of Champions (April 20-21); the Houston Champions' International (May 4-5); the Colonial National Invitational from Fort Worth, Texas (May 18-19); the U.S. Open (June 15-16); the British Open (July 12-13); and the PGA Championship (July 20-21).

NBC will have coverage of the World Series of Golf (this weekend, Sept. 9-10); also, the Hawaiian Open (Nov. 4-5), the Bob Hope Desert Classic (Feb. 3-4), and Shell's Wonderful World of Golf (Saturdays, January to March).

Bowling: The Professional Bowlers Tour opens on ABC in January.

Horse Racing: CBS once again will carry the Triple Crown: the Kentucky Derby, May 4; the Preakness, May 18; and the Belmont Stakes, June 1 or 8. Some areas will receive other Saturday races by way of regional feeds.

Ice Hockey: The National Hockey League contests will be visible on CBS on Saturday afternoons, December to late January; then when the pro footballers end their season, hockey switches to Sunday afternoons from January through April.

Soccer: From mid-April to early September on Sunday afternoons, CBS provides coverage of the National Professional Soccer League.

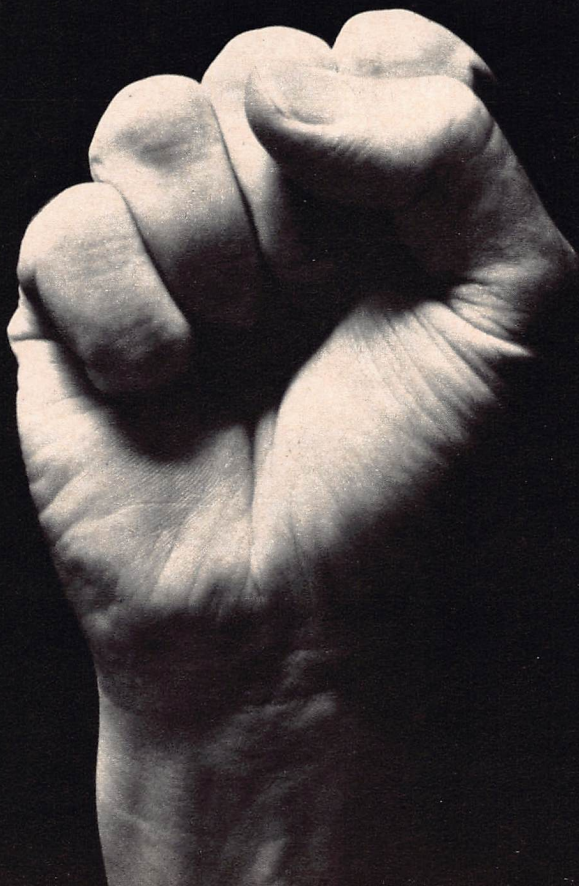

Tennis: The U.S. Tennis Championships from Forest Hills, N.Y., will be seen on ABC this weekend (Sept 9-10).

You'll notice that the CBS Sports Spectacular is out of that network's lineup this year in favor of hockey.

Very much alive, though, is ABC's Wide World of Sports on Saturdays, which this year will be devoting a lion's share of its time to coverage and background on the Olympic Games. The producers also expect to have many of the show's regular attractions back for reprises: prize fights (including the heavyweight tournaments that will determine Cassius Clay's successor), the National AAU Track and Field Championships, the World Figure Skating Championships, the National Men's and Women's Swimming and Diving Championships, the America's Cup yacht races, the World Surfing Championships, the National AAU Gymnastics Championship, the World Series of Skiing, the Le Mans 24-hour Grand Prix of Endurance, and the Sebring 12-hour Grand Prix of Endurance.

And returning in January on ABC, is the Sunday afternoon hunting-and-fishing show, The American Sportsman.

EDUCATIONAL TELEVISION

"I think it's logical to assume that noncommercial television has come of age and will, this fall, embark on early adulthood." This feeling of confidence and promise, expressed by an executive of National Educational Television (NET), seems to be shared this September by everyone associated with educational TV. Their buoyant mood is based partly on the fact that the public dialog on Public Television has been opened and that one way or another its financial worries will be relieved. But Utopia is still very much in the distance. At hand, right now, is some tangible evidence of the improving health of educational television—NET's auspicious plans for the new season. Here are some of the new programs NET will be offering:

Public Broadcast Laboratory of NET will produce a Sunday-night series that may prove to be the most spectacular programming event in educational television's history. For 26 Sundays, beginning Nov. 5, the Laboratory will originate a two-hour (sometimes longer) news-and-opinion magazine of the air. According to director Av Westin's prospectus, the programs will "go beyond television's regular news coverage to examine the immediate and long-term meaning not only of political, military and economic events but also of all major cultural, educational and scientific developments and trends." In short, the range of subjects is unlimited, and the treatment will be too: drama, music, cartoons, news-film, interviews—any technique may be tried.

The commentary may be provided by the series' "senior correspondent," Edward P. Morgan, or by Groucho Marx or Walter Lippmann or Stan Freberg or anyone alive. It's all unabashedly experimental.

Documentaries being readied by the NET Journal unit include three on poverty in America, two on the Negro, and others on the roots of prejudice, privacy, peace marches and the Russian Revolution.

Drama will be offered by NET Playhouse, which will stage a number of new productions of its own and will import others from abroad. The homegrown plays include works by Pirandello, Molière, Thornton Wilder and some unsung dramatists. The imports include works by Anouilh, Chekhov, Forster, Joyce, Middleton, Pinero, John Arden and Stravinsky.

Musical specials range from Haydn's opera "Orfeo ed Euridice" (with Joan Sutherland) to "Birth of the Bossa Nova" (filmed in Brazil); from Balanchine's "Apollon Musagètes" (danced by the New York City Ballet) to "Monterey Jazz"; from "The Mozart Concerto" (with pianist Lili Kraus) to "The Five Senses" (a contemporary choreographic work by John Butler).

Other specials: "Isadora," a dramatic documentary recounting the life and death of Isadora Duncan; "Ustinov on the Ustinov"; and "Dialogue: Israel and Martin Buber."

Children's programs: A new series, Misterogers' Neighborhood, joins What's New and The Friendly Giant in NET's daytime lineup.

Interconnection—the live linking of the educational-TV stations—is expected to increase this season. One certainty is NET coverage of the political conventions next summer.

DAYTIME

The networks' daytime-TV plans indicate that they're trying to corner the kiddy market. Except for a soap opera, all they have on the drawing boards at the moment is a slew of new Saturday cartoons.

Love Is a Many-Splendored Thing is the soap opera. It picks up where Han Suyin's autobiographical novel (and the movie) called it a day. For this version, Irna Phillips, queen of daytime scribes, has blessed Han Suyin and hubby Mark Elliot with a teen-age daughter named Mia (Mia?) who wants to be an M.D. You can be sure Mia will traipse through a heap of tsuris before she hangs out a shingle. Debut: CBS, Sept. 18.

The cartoons:

Birdman used to be plain Ray Randall until, one day, Ra, Egyptian spirit of the sun, saved him from a fiery finis. Since then Ray's been shooting solar beams—melting badmen's bullets and dishing out some terrific tans. Debut: NBC, Sept. 9.

The Fantastic Four are fun folks: Papa Richard expands like a rubber band; wife Sue is invisible most of the time; teen-ager Johnny's a human torch; and Ben Grimm, a family friend, is tactfully called "The Thing." Needless to say, they aren't asked out much. Debut: ABC, Sept. 9.

George of the Jungle is a klutzy ape man. He spends a good deal of time in traction. Debut: ABC, Sept. 9.

The Herculoids hang out on a distant planet. There's Tundro, a 10-legged rhinoceros; Igoo, a petrified-rock gorilla; Zok, a flying electrical dragon; and Gloop and Gleep, two shapeless blobs. A nice planet to visit, but you wouldn't want to live there. Debut: CBS, Sept. 9.

Journey to the Center of the Earth finds Jules Verne's fearless four getting right to the heart of the matter. Debut: ABC, Sept. 9.

Moby Dick and The Mighty Mightor has Melville's redoubtable hunk of blubber playing nanny to two shipwrecked shrimps in one cartoon; in the other, the boy Tor, in a wink, becomes Mightor and mauls monsters with his magic club. Debut: CBS, Sept. 9.

Samson & Goliath casts Sam as this little kid who—to be honest—runs around wearing bracelets. Crooks better think twice about calling him a sissy though. Just a rub of those bracelets and little Sam converts into you-know-who. Debut: NBC, Sept. 9.

Shazzan! transports young Chuck and Nancy into the world of the Arabian Nights, where they run into a jolly 60-foot genie named Shazzan. Debut: CBS, Sept. 9.

Spider-Man is collegian Peter Parker, who has the dubious distinction of periodically turning into a crawly crime fighter. Debut: ABC, Sept. 9.

Super President fights crime between cabinet meetings. He is apparently the compleat politician—he can (according to a network press release) "change his molecular structure so that his body becomes any solid or gaseous substance." Debut: NBC, Sept. 9.

The Superman-Aquaman Hour of Adventure: What? Superman sharing top billing with some fishy character yclept Aquaman in stories of derring-do? Hmph! Debut: CBS, Sept. 9.

When you have two Blue Bonnet Margarines with the same delectable flavor...

Which one should you buy?

Both. Soft for spreading, Regular for cooking. Either way, you get the same mouth-watering flavor that has made Blue Bonnet America's number-one margarine. Just remember: New Soft Blue Bonnet spreads easier. It's low in saturated fat. And it comes in a handy tub with a new snap-open, see-through lid. But, soft or regular, you simply can't beat Blue Bonnet flavor. That's why you need both Blue Bonnet margarines—now.

for you in the Volkswagen dealer's used car lot right now. With a written 100% guarantee from the dealer covering all its major mechanical parts —engine, transmission, rear axle, front axle assemblies, brake system,
and electrical system.

If anything goes wrong with any of those parts within 30 days or 1,000
